El-Iman School is a great school. My daughter has graduated, and she has the best memories with her teachers and friends. My son is still studying, and he is always happy to go to school! Speaks a lot! The teachers are very dedicated, and parents are devoted and inclusive. I gladdened have asked for a better Arabic school for my children! Thank you so much!

El-Iman School has been a perfect fit for my son over the last 3 years. He has been challenged and has flourished academically; he has matured in a positive, supportive environment, and he has made many enduring friendships. El-Iman School's core values of kindness, honesty, respect, responsibility are more than platitudes - they are genuinely evident throughout the school community. The teachers are incredibly supportive and enthusiastic, which makes for a great learning environment. My son loves going to El-Iman School, we could not be more pleased with our choice of El-Iman School.

We love this school! We have had a child enrolled for the past 4 years.

El-Iman School not only provides excellent academics. El-Iman School provides a nurturing atmosphere and is staffed by teachers and administrators who really care.

I highly recommend El-Iman School.

El-Iman School provides a solid education for my boys with age-appropriate academic challenges. Also, very welcoming to diversity and faculty are very approachable.

We love El-Iman School for the academics and character building and the family atmosphere. The school has high academic standards, but the teachers make it seem effortless. The children are challenged in an intuitive way, so they are pushing their boundaries without crying into their textbooks at the amount of homework.

We loved El-Iman School and had to leave because we left Harrow. It provides an excellent education and nurturing environment. The students and parents are engaged in the school. They are excellent and caring about all children and families.

My daughter is going into year 3. I have found El-Iman School to be well beyond expectations. Her reading & writing are well beyond her grade year all while allowing her to be a "kid". She loves going to school. El-Iman School has shown me their unique ability to get the most out of my daughter as a person and student without her feeling the pressures a more difficult curriculum. I give El-Iman School my highest recommendation.

Our three children transitioned to El-Iman School in the middle of this school year. We have been amazed by the school every step of the way: the assessment of our children, the way of communicating, the educational approach, the academics, the El-Iman School values, the support of the teachers and the kindness of the El-Iman School community are all exceeding expectations. The school not only offers challenging academics, but finds a great balance between learning, fun and character building. After only a few weeks my children not only go to school smiling, but they feel part of the El-Iman School community. A big thank you to the amazing teachers, helpful staff, kind pupils and engaging parents who all reached out and welcomed our family with open arms. El-Iman School is one of a kind.

After looking at other Arabic schools, it was obvious that El-Iman School was the right school for us. From the warm cosy feeling, the above average standardized test scores, excellent curriculum and the El-Iman School values that are displayed throughout, made this school stand out above the rest. My child has attended this school for 4 years now and still impressed how exceptional El-Iman School is. I feel truly blessed to be a part of this community.

After looking at several Arabic schools, we knew El-Iman School was the best choice for our son entering Reception. After the first quarter, our decision was only cemented even further. The structured learning environment is challenging and nurturing. Our son's academic progress has exceeded our expectations thus far.
